Report of Independent Auditors

To the Board of Directors of FBR Investments Services, Inc.

In our opinion, the accompanying statement of financial condition presents fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of FBR Investments Services, Inc. (the "Company") at December 31, 2004, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. This financial statement is the responsibility of the Company's management; our responsibility is to express an opinion on this financial statement based on our audit. We conducted our audit of this statement in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, which require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, and evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

FBR Investment Services, Inc.
Notes to Statement of Financial Condition
December 31, 2004

1. Organization and Nature of Business

FBR Investment Services, Inc. (the "Company") is a broker-dealer registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission and is a member of the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. The Company operates as an online investment bank and electronic brokerage as well as a distributor of related mutual funds. The Company is a wholly owned subsidiary of FBR TRS Holdings, Inc. ("FBR TRS Holdings"), which is a wholly owned subsidiary of Friedman, Billings, Ramsey Group, Inc. ("FBR Group").

2. Significant Accounting Policies

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash equivalents are highly liquid investments with original maturities of less than 90 days that are not held for sale in the ordinary course of business.

Securities Transactions

The Company acts as an introducing broker executing transactions for customers and forwarding all such transactions to a clearing broker on a fully disclosed basis. The Company neither holds funds or securities for, nor owes funds or securities to, customers.

Depreciation and Amortization

Furniture, equipment, and software are depreciated using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives of three to five years. Leasehold improvements are amortized over the lesser of the economic useful life of the improvements or the term of the lease.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

3. Receivable from Clearing Broker

The Company clears all of its proprietary and customer transactions through another broker-dealer on a fully disclosed basis. The amount receivable from the clearing broker represents cash on hand with the clearing broker plus proceeds from unsettled securities sold and less amounts payable for unsettled securities purchased by the Company.

4. Related-Party Transactions

The Company is a member of an operating group of affiliates that may provide or receive services to and from each other. From time to time, FBR Group and other affiliates may record costs, which, in part, may be based on the Company's operations. Accordingly, the statement of financial condition may not necessarily be indicative of the financial position that would have existed had the company been operated as an unaffiliated corporation.

FBR Investment Services, Inc.
Notes to Statement of Financial Condition
December 31, 2004

The Company recorded advances to affiliate of $7,494,898 that is due from FBR TRS Holdings. The Company and FBR TRS Holdings have not agreed on a formal plan of repayment and accordingly the advance has been recorded in stockholders equity. The tax benefit of $433,900 recognized by the Company was reimbursed by FBR TRS Holdings during 2004 in accordance with the tax sharing agreement (see Note 6).

On a monthly basis, the Company reimburses FBR Group for its share of compensation that FBR Group pays employees. This amount is presented as a payable to affiliates.

FBR TRS Holdings has agreed to fund any capital or cash shortfalls of the Company through December 31, 2005.

5. Office Furniture, Equipment, Software and Leasehold Improvements

Furniture, equipment, software and leasehold improvements, summarized by major classification at December 31, 2004 were:

Furniture and equipment	$ 104,815
Software	7,610,698
Leasehold improvements	12,983
	7,728,496
Less - accumulated depreciation and amortization	(7,721,377)
	$ 7,119

6. Income Taxes

The Company files consolidated federal and state tax returns with FBR TRS Holding's and its consolidated subsidiaries. Pursuant to FBR TRS Holding's written tax sharing agreement, the Company determines its income tax expense or benefit on a separate company basis and the tax sharing agreement further provides that any tax benefits or expenses are ultimately receivable from or payable to FBR TRS Holdings. In accordance with the tax sharing agreement, FBR TRS Holdings will reimburse the related entities for any tax benefits recorded on a separate company basis when utilized in the consolidated return.

At December 31, 2004, advances to affiliates included a net deferred tax asset of $5,224. The sources and amounts of the net deferred tax asset included deferred tax assets relating to depreciation of $2,669 and accrued compensation of $2,555.

At December 31, 2004, the Company recorded $311,510 of state deferred tax assets for which a full valuation allowance has been provided.

7. Off-Balance-Sheet Risk

The Company functions as an introducing broker that places and executes customer orders. The orders are settled by an unrelated clearing broker that also maintains custody of customer securities and provides financing to customers. Through an indemnification provision in the Company's agreement with its clearing broker, the Company's customer activities may expose it to off-balance-sheet credit risk. The Company may have to reimburse the clearing broker for losses incurred at prevailing market prices in the event the customer fails to settle a trade according to its original terms or in the event cash and securities in customer margin accounts are not sufficient to fully cover customer losses.

The Company clears all of its securities transactions through a clearing broker on a fully disclosed basis. Pursuant to the terms of the agreements between the Company and the clearing broker, the clearing broker has the right to charge the Company for losses that result from a counterparty's failure to fulfill its contractual obligations.

As the right to charge the Company has no maximum amount and applies to all trades executed through the clearing broker, the Company believes there is no maximum amount assignable to this right. At December 31, 2004, the Company has recorded no liabilities with regard to the right. During 2004, the Company incurred no loss related to these guarantees.

In addition, the Company has the right to pursue collection or performance from the counterparties who do not perform under their contractual obligations. The Company monitors the credit standing of the clearing broker and all counterparties with which it conducts business.

The securities industry is subject to numerous risks, including the risk of loss associated with underwriting and the risk of reduced revenues in periods of reduced demand for security offerings and activity in secondary trading markets.

Positions taken and commitments made by the Company in connection with its investment banking activities may involve significant exposure to individual issuers and industry sectors, including non-investment grade securities which have low trading volumes. This may expose the Company to a higher degree of risk than is associated with investment grade instruments.

A substantial portion of the Company's revenues in any given year may be derived from a small number of investment banking transactions or may be concentrated in a particular industry.

8. Commitments and Contingencies

As of December 31, 2004, the Company was not a defendant or plaintiff in any lawsuit or arbitration that was expected to have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial condition. However, the Company is subject to regulatory oversight relating to its various businesses, including examination by regulatory bodies and requests for information relating to such examinations. There can be no assurance that these matters will not have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial condition or results of operations in a future period.

FBR Investment Services, Inc.
Notes to Statement of Financial Condition
December 31, 2004

Many aspects of the Company's business involve substantial risks of liability and litigation. Underwriters and broker-dealers are exposed to liability under Federal and state securities laws, other Federal and state laws and court decisions, including decisions with respect to underwriters' liability and limitations or indemnification, as well as with respect to the handling of customer accounts. For example, underwriters may be held liable for material misstatements or omissions of fact in a prospectus used in connection with the securities being offered and broker-dealers may be held liable for statements made by their securities analysts or other personnel. In certain circumstances, broker-dealers may also be held liable by customers and clients for losses sustained on investments. In recent years, there has been an increasing incidence of litigation involving the securities industry, including class actions that seek substantial damages. The Company is subject to the risk of litigation, including litigation that may be without merit. As the Company intends to actively defend such litigation, significant legal expenses could be incurred. An adverse resolution of any future litigation against the Company could materially affect the Company's operating results and financial condition.

9. Net Capital Computation

The Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission's Uniform Net Capital Rule ("Rule 15c3-1"), which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, both as defined, shall not exceed 15 to 1. At December 31, 2004, the Company had net capital of $343,158, which was $243,158 in excess of its required net capital of $100,000. The Company's aggregate indebtedness to net capital ratio was 2.68 to 1 at December 31, 2004.

The Company is exempt from the provisions of Rule 15c3-3 under the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934 because all customer transactions are cleared through another broker-dealer on a fully disclosed basis.
